

--Question Starting--

23. Which of the following are significant issues related to menstruation and societal stigma?

- I. Limited access to sanitary products in rural areas.
- II. Workplace policies accommodating menstruation.
- III. Beliefs linking menstruation with impurity.
- IV. High cost of menstrual products.

Choose the correct answer from the options given below:

- (1) I, II, and III only
- (2) III and IV only
- (3) I, III, and IV only
- (4) All of the above

Answer Key: 3

Solution:

Statement I (Correct): Rural areas often face significant barriers in accessing sanitary products, contributing to menstrual stigma.

Statement II (Incorrect): Although important, workplace policies are not universally recognized as a stigma issue in the context of menstruation.

Statement III (Correct): Cultural and religious beliefs often link menstruation with notions of impurity, enhancing stigma.

Statement IV (Correct): The high cost of menstrual products can exacerbate access issues and stigmatization.

Hence, the correct answer is Option (3).

--Question Starting--

24. In the context of intersectionality, which factors significantly influence an individual's experience in society?

- I. Caste
- II. Economic status
- III. Educational background
- IV. Gender identity

Choose the correct answer from the options given below:

- (1) I, II, and IV only
- (2) I and III only
- (3) II, III, and IV only
- (4) All of the above

Answer Key: 1

Solution:

Statement I (Correct): Caste can majorly determine social standing and opportunities in many societies.

Statement II (Correct): Economic status influences access to resources, healthcare, and education, affecting societal experiences.

Statement III (Incorrect): While significant, educational background alone is less emphasized in intersectional analysis compared to other listed factors.

Statement IV (Correct): Gender identity can fundamentally affect experiences of discrimination or privilege.

Hence, the correct answer is Option (1).

--Question Starting--

25. Which of the following are central themes in the relationship between fashion, consumption, and identity?

- I. Brand influence on self-perception
- II. Economic implications of fashion trends
- III. Fashion as a form of self-expression
- IV. Environmental impact of textile production

Choose the correct answer from the options given below:

- (1) I, II, and III only

- (2) I and IV only
- (3) II, III, and IV only
- (4) All of the above

Answer Key: 1

Solution:

Statement I (Correct): Brands significantly influence individual self-perception and identity through fashion choices.

Statement II (Correct): Economic implications of fashion trends can dictate market dynamics and consumer behavior.

Statement III (Correct): Fashion serves as a powerful medium for self-expression and identity construction.

Statement IV (Incorrect): While important, the environmental impact of textile production is not directly related to the individual themes of identity and consumption in fashion.

Hence, the correct answer is Option (1).